

2017 Southeastern Library Assessment Conference

Q4 - Please comment on the conference sessions.

The opening keynote was stellar. Most of the other sessions were also practical and applicable for my library.

I liked the last space assessment session and the keynote the most.

The keynote speaker was very informative. I enjoyed her presentation and learned a lot that I can try to apply in my work. I am very grateful that she gave us access to her ebook at no charge. I enjoyed all of the other sessions I attended as well.

Q6 - What was the best part of the conference?

I really enjoyed the keynote. I would like to study those slides in more detail so I can improve future visualizations.

Keynote was great!! Really helped me consider how I can update our dashboard and charts/visualizations, which is something I've been struggling with lately. So the timing was great!

Ann Emery's keynote

The opening keynote. Also, hearing other librarians discuss how they approach assessment.

The keynote was outstanding. I appreciated the wide variety of topics presented, including feminist pedagogy in library instruction and collections assessment. I do assessment in many areas and was happy to see many areas represented.

The keynote about learning how to present data in better ways was very helpful.

The keynote speaker.

I really enjoyed the keynote speaker and the opportunity to network with others. I also like that breakfast and lunch were included because it encouraged networking.

OMG! If I had to limit to just one thing... The keynote!!
